

THE GENUINE

JOHANN HOFF'S

A large bottle of Malt Extract stands on a pedestal, surrounded by a group of people, including children and adults, in a domestic setting. The bottle has a label that reads 'MALT EXTRACT' and 'JAMES WATSON & CO. LTD.' The scene is framed by a decorative border.

The Best Nutritive Tonic
FOR
Indigestion, Malnutrition, Inconvenience, Pulmonary, and Throat Diseases.
SOVEREIGN REMEDY
for the Weak and Debilitated
and by All Physicians throughout the Civil World.

PROF. PIETRA SANTA, OF PARIS,
the world renowned specialist on pulmonary disease,
first published in Paris, speaks of the JOHANN HOFF'S NUTRITIVE TONIC as a tonic which he can highly recommend this pleasant remedy in all cases of weakness and debility. It restores the necessary power to digest solid food,
through the use of stimulants be merely sustained, therefore it is one of the most valuable medicines to bring to his aid a pleasant remedy. It is a tonic which is not only pleasant to take, but it is a tonic which will set, not only as a tonic, but it is well, and which is less exciting than stimulants.

JOHANN HOFF,
BRUSSELS, PARIS, VIENNA,
New-York, No. 6 Barclay St.

Be warned of Fraudulent Imitations—THE GENUINE JOHANN HOFF'S NUTRITIVE TONIC is sold in the neck, and in square bottles with a German label thereon.

TAKE NO OTHER.

Hub and had accepted the membership.
The vote then rose.

---

SENATE PASSES THE COPYRIGHT BILL
BY A VOTE OF 72 TO 19.

Washington, May 9 (Special).—The Senate today passed the Copyright Bill, H. R. 7600, by a vote of 72 to 19. The bill was introduced by Mr. Jones of California, and was reported by the Senate Committee on Patents and Copyrights. The bill provides for the extension of the term of copyright for works of art, and for the protection of the rights of authors and composers. The bill was passed by a vote of 72 to 19, with 19 members of the Senate opposing it. The bill is now in the House of Representatives, where it is expected to pass without amendment.

The vote on the amendment was: yeas, 25; no quorum voting. The amendment was withdrawn by Mr. Jones.

Mr. Vance offered an amendment to the fourth section of the bill, to read:

And inserting the proviso that newspapers, and periodicals shall not be entitled to copy and that the effect of the bill would necessitate the price of knowledge to all the people of this country, as the law did now in Great Britain. The object of his amendment was, at least, to heap literature for the people in the shanties, newspapers and periodicals.

Blair resented this allusion and said that he would not give his bills for printing that bill, he received in exchange. That was hard enough on Blair, without being insulted in addition.

Saulsbury disclaimed any idea of giving out a bill was then passed—yeas, 35; nays, 10. The nay were Senators Berry, Call, Eustis, Jones, Kansas: Pugh, Ransom, Reagan, Saulsbury, V. althall.

HATCH'S DEATH ACCIDENT.

UTOPSY BY THE DEPUTY-CORONER.

ERS THAT THE DEAD MAN WAS THE VICTIM OF A BLACKMAILING SCHEME.

may be the result of the inquest in
of Nathaniel W. T. Hatch, it is now considcertain that his death was accidental.
offends are held responsible for it by those investigating it. Mr. Hatch, they say, would entered the house uninvited, and the wife
in her statement says that she asked him last night. He found that death had been a compound fracture of the skull on the
at the top. There was a contusion on the er and a slight abrasion on the right hand abrasion under the right eye, which looked in the effect of a blow, was caused by the eff-

from the skull fracture, which extended to the orbit of that eye. Rumor had it yesterday that she was enticed into the house to be made the victim of a well-laid plan of blackmail. She learned the news of what had happened yesterday morning.

to relate Mrs. Scofield's extraordinary little history. The first information regarding antecedents was derived from a letter sent by the Levy from the St. James's Hotel. The writer did not sign his name, called the coroner "Papa" and Mr. Levy thought that he recognized the signature. This unknown correspondent brands Mrs. Scofield as an unprincipled adventuress, who has had more object in life than to enrich herself at the expense of her victims, who have invariably been her personal attractions. The letter also stated that before she married Scfield she let farming in a house in West Twenty-eighth-st., and that well-known men about town could throw light on her life. Mrs. Twitchell, the well-known advocate of woman's rights, supplemented the anonymous letter with a statement to the owner, which entirely substantiated the writer's accusations and hints. In an interview with a "Tribune" reporter, Mrs. Twitchell stated the theory of the case that Mrs. Scfield had enticed atch into her house to persuade him to a financial t of a certain company. D. C. Ferris, at first as Mrs. Scofield's brother-in-law, but w

to relationship has turned out to be ground
owner of the New-York State right to the c

Mrs. Scofield is said to be a hanger on of him, and has been especially friendly to him in his interests when he has had money that looked as if it would pay. Mrs. Scofield has had a remarkable career in California, where as Mrs. Stowell, she had a constant ring of admirers.

son, according to her accusers, escaped unscathed from the office of W. F. Hatch & Son, business men on an usual yesterday. Mr. Hatch's brother-in-law was there during most of the day. One of them reported that the firm's business relations with Sheffield had always been pleasant, and he seemed to be surprised to hear that ugly stories of the kind now being spread.

Funeral will take place to-day at Mr. H. H. No. 36 West Fifty-third-st. Several representatives from the Stock Exchange will attend it. He is particularly deserving of sympathy at this time. There are three widows there, two up the record of Scofield's marriage on August 14, 1954. The certificate states that Charles W. Scofield, 35, a native of Stamford, Conn., residing at No. 212 West Thirty-fourth-st., had been married once before. The bride's name as Lillian E. Stowell and her age as twenty years. It was also stated that she was born in [redacted] and that her father's name was James [redacted]. She admitted having been married once before. The names of the witnesses of the marriage were not given.

Wives and Daughters.

A GRATEFUL WOMAN.
J. H. Giles, of Everett, Pa., says: I suffered years from Kidney and Gravel troubles. Boisterous and over-exhausting habits were the cause. My various complaints common to my sex. No physician would touch me at home did me any good. I finally began using Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, made in London.

A few words tell the result. I am a happy well woman once more. Thanks to Dr. Da y's Favorite Remedy.

Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy
Rondout, N. Y. Price, $1; 6 for $5.